Greetings

Welcome to all those attending our services. We also extend warm wishes to everyone who is part of our readership.

Special welcome to Professor Lawrence Schiffman, who joins us as our Scholar-in-Residence this weekend.

EDOS has the privilege of hosting this renowned scholar of ancient Judaism and the Dead Sea Scrolls.

EDOS hosts a Friday night dinner in his honor (RSVP requested). Professor Schiffman speaks Friday night after Kabbalat Shabbat (Mizmor Shir L'Yom HaShabbat, What Does It Have To Do With Shabbat), and at an oneg Shabbat following the dinner (The Other Dead Sea Scrolls: Manuscripts from Masada and the Bar Kochva Caves).

On Shabbat, he speaks before Mussaf (Yaakov's Ladder in the Bayit Sheini Era, Rabbinic Literature, and Medieval Jewish Thought) and again at 7:30 PM (The Dead Sea Scrolls and the History of Halacha) followed by Q&A and a dessert reception. All talks are free and open to the public.

Events & Notes

Early Shema Reminder—From now until Chanukah, the time for shema is earlier than we reach it in the davening. Please remember to recite it when you arrive at shul.

Turkey Shiur—Rabbi Yehuda Bloom gives a shiur on Turkey: The Bird Our Ancestors Never Met on Thursday, Thanksgiving morning, after Shacharit. Breakfast served. Sponsorship opportunities: contact ybloom@merkaztorah.org.

EDOS & YID Learning Program—Last week we began the new Semichas Chaver program at EDOS. The topics are the halachot that arise daily, such as hafrashat challah, and includes a take home Q&A suitable for the Shabbat table. The materials & recording are on our web site. The next session is Sunday, November 22nd, 7:30 PM at EDOS.

Youth Activities

EDOS—Children's educational programming takes place every Shabbat from 9:45–11:15 AM in the EDOS lower level, led by Leah.

NCSY—Contact Yonatan Nuszen, ynuszen@ncsy.org, or visit southwest.ncsy.org for posted events!

Kiddush

Kiddush this week is sponsored by Tzvi Horowitz & Dr. Lynn White, in loving memory of Tzvi's beloved parents, Aryeh Leib ben Yitzchak Ahron HaLevi and Yocheved Rachel bas Reb Shimon, on the occasion of their Yahrzeits.

Community Events

Eruv Sponsor—EDOS would like to highlight our community's weekly Eruv sponsors. This week the Eruv is sponsored by Shlomo & Raacheli Fried to honor the Aufruf of Binyomin Jacobs.

Men's Event—Save the date! February 3rd! Honoring Steven Paletz and featuring Bruce Pearl.

Tami Ellison Book—Tami has written OPERATION PO: Nes Gadol (with Leya Bram Shvueli), an illustrated children's adventure. A perfect read for grandparents and young readers, the storybook takes readers into the world of a lost dreidel and his journey to find out who he is and where he belongs. The book is available on Amazon amazon.com/OPERATION-PO-Gadol-Geula-Adventure/dp/9659323433 in Paperback and Kindle. Companion activity sheets can be downloaded at the GeulaGarden.com website. Dairy Bread (Part 2)

In Part 1, we introduced the issue of dairy bread. In this installment we will focus on some questionable scenarios related to this prohibition.

1. Q: I was unaware of this prohibition, and I have made dairy bread on my pans and in my oven. Do I have to Kasher my utensils?
   A: Although some are stringent and it would be praiseworthy to abide by those opinions when possible, the consensus of Poskim is that kashering is not required b'dieved (ex post facto).
   Why? The debate in the Poskim whether one is required to Kasher after using his utensils for (hot) dairy bread focuses on the extent of the decree. The consensus of Poskim is that dairy bread is fundamentally different than many other Rabbinic Kosher decrees which turns the food itself into 'rabbinic non-kosher'. The decree of dairy bread, however, merely forbids the person to eat this otherwise kosher item. As such, kashering would not be required.
2. Q: Can I use a dairy pan and oven to bake bread, or will that make my bread forbidden to eat?
   A: Pischei Teshuva writes that using dairy pans are not included in the prohibition of dairy bread and would be permitted.
   It is important to note that Ashkenazim cannot use such bread with meat if the pans were used for dairy within 24 hours prior, and a sign or notification of status should be made to avoid accidentally eating this bread with meat.
   For Sephardim, it would be permitted to use with meat, but one may not bake such bread with the intention to be used with meat.
3. Q: If some milk falls onto baked bread and the milk is not visibly discernable, is this a problem?
   A: The position of many poskim is that the decree of dairy bread only applies to milk added when it is in dough form. Once the bread is baked, even if one were to intentionally place milk onto the bread, it would not be included in the decree.
   - This is one of the reasons that French toast is permitted.
   - Practically speaking, leaving undiscernible dairy bread around the house is an accident waiting to happen. It is essential that some sort of sign or notification of status be made.
